REMARKS BY THE AUDITOR.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE
JANUARY 1st, 1888.

To His Excellency, Gov. Robert Lowry:

I respectfully submit to you, and through you, to the Legislature, the accompanying pages of reports, showing the transactions at the Auditor's office, had on and for the various accounts therein named, during the fiscal years 1886 and 1887, beginning on the first day of January and closing, respectively, on the 31st day of December.

It will be noted that the report is more comprehensive and goes more into detail than has been usual in reports made by this department. To do this greater expense has been necessarily incurred, but I feel that the expense will be of slight moment compared with resulting benefits to members and the people of the State generally, from full and detailed statements of the State's fiscal affairs on both the receipt and disbursement accounts.

I have set forth the receipts into the Treasury in numerical order, giving each warrant, number, name, amount, on what fund, etc., paid from the beginning to the close of each year, and observed the same method with warrants issued on the disbursement account. From these itemized statements I have compiled appropriate tables showing all the receipts and disbursements under the various heads of account. These tables show the various sources of revenue and the amount netted to the Treasury from each source, together with the amount of revenue contributed by each item, article, individual and corporation taxed under the present law. I have endeavored to make this feature conspicuous and plain that it may serve as a guide in your deliberations regarding revenue matters during the present session. In this I hope I have not failed.

The same method has been observed touching the disbursements, setting forth the various beneficiaries of the State's revenue, by warrants, with date, name, etc., as in the case of the receipts, of various tables of each fund disbursed, to the end that the compliance or noncompliance with the law regulating the various disbursements, imposed by law on this office, may be the better noted.

CHANGES IN REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

I beg to call attention to some changes in the revenue department which my experience teaches me should be made. Notably and first among these is the method observed in making assessments of real and personal property. I deem a radical change in the present plan absolutely necessary to a just compliance with the constitutional requirement relating to ad valorem taxes, with which alone the assessor, as an officer has to deal. I shall not presume to give in detail any conceptions of my own, touching this important matter, but will cheerfully submit such conclusions as my experience has enabled me to reach, either to individuals or any appropriate committee.

I would, however, beg to emphasize the fact, that very many of the assessment rolls for 1887, just received at the Auditor's Office, exhibit the most glaring inequalities, and, as it would seem, in utter disregard of the present law, and under the present system, practically without proper or adequate remedy. Many rolls give evidence of gross and unpardonable inefficiency in the Assessor, an officer, who by the way, should be thoroughly competent, both as to intelligence and capacity to execute the work of his office, and prevent the necessity of "farming out" the work to irresponsible parties, as is notably in vogue in many of the counties.

As the work of this important officer forms the basis of the State's chief and most important revenue, and upon which the fiscal officers are to depend for an honorable and just settlement with Tax Collectors, it is but meet that his rolls should be full, complete and free from error. This cannot be expected from incompetent assessors.

THE PRIVILEGE TAX LAW.

The privilege tax law, passed at the session of 1886, imposed a tax of $25 00 on travelling salesmen. Under this section, a sum aggregating, gross, about $35,000 00 was collected by the various Tax Collectors. Under a decision of the United States Supreme Court, it seemed manifest that the collection of this tax was unconstitutional, and upon the advice of the Attorney-General, I directed the discontinuance of its collection. Since April 1887, no revenue has been derived from this source.

Under the same Act, a privilege tax was imposed upon Sleeping Car Companies. Attempting to enforce this feature of the law, I was confronted with decisions of the same character, and after taking council with the Attorney-

General, it was deemed proper not to attempt to enforce collections. We have no revenues, therefore, to report from this source.

The same Act levied a heavy tax upon vendors of Bed Springs. By reference to table of privilege receipts, by counties, it will be seen that this tax practically amounted to an embargo on that business, and has deprived many a tradesman of an honest means of livelihood.

I cannot dwell in detail on the privilege law, but many features of the same can and should be improved upon. If desired, specific suggestions will cheerfully be made to the proper committee.

THE INSURANCE LAWS.

Since the Auditor is chiefly charged with the execution of the insurance laws now in force, it may perhaps be appropriate to mention that the law is much complained of and a general desire expressed to have some radical changes made. As to the cardinal features of an improved system, I shall attempt no suggestions. I concur heartily in the conviction, however, that a wise and judicious remodelling of the present system should be made at this session, and am confident that, in this, both the interest of the people and the companies as well, will be subserved.

CHANGE OF FISCAL YEAR.

I would direct attention to the propriety of changing the fiscal periods, so that the integrity of financial affairs can be observed and preserved on all accounts. As noted above the present fiscal term commences with January first and ends December 31st. The tax-paying period on ad valorem taxes dates from October 1st, of each year, and terminates on April 1st, following, with Tax Collector's final settlement. On account of privileges and licenses to retail, the tax year begins May 1st of each year, and terminates April 30th following. Thus, as will be manifest, there is a cutting in two of the various terms. Affairs at the Treasury sympathize with this inharmonious commingling of transactions and accounts and inexplicable confusion is wrought in the minds of the people, requiring explanation to prevent misconception and seeming injustice to officers and taxpayers of many counties.

Many cogent reasons can be offered for preserving without break in their entirety all transactions on account of revenues under a specific levy, running for a given period from beginning of collections to final settlements.

Final settlements of Tax Collectors should be made at the same date for all accounts.

LANDS HELD BY THE STATE FOR TAXES.

Only a few years since the State held under sales for taxes enormous bodies of land in every county. A large percentage of these lands have been sold by the State to corporations and individuals of late, and are now restored to the taxpaying list.

Had the clerical force at my command been sufficient I should have furnished you with the number of acres still held.

The demand for these lands is still heavy and the correspondence as burdensome as when the holdings were greater. I hope the time is not far distant when they will all again be in the hands of citizens.

During my incumbency the sale of lands to the State has been nominal and in many counties where forfeitures have been largest heretofore there have been none at all. In fact I can point to no circumstance which indicates so clearly the improved feeling of confidence in themselves and the giving of fixed value to the property of the citizens, as the fact that the people are holding to their lands and wish to acquire more at a constantly increasing cost.

Attention is called to the fact that quite a sum of money has been disbursed during the past two years, (see Code 1880, Section 537,) to individuals who have purchased from the State lands improperly sold. In fact the State has sold, and is now holding no doubt a large quantity of lands belonging in reality to the General Government, Swamp Land Department and Chickasaw School Fund.

So voluminous is the correspondence on this account and so complicated is the routine of preparing papers in refunding these monies, that it requires nearly the entire time of one man in my office to attend thereto. I hope in treating the question of assessments this fact may be held in view and provision made for its speedy rectification.

REPORTS OF TAX COLLECTORS.

I would beg to acknowledge the prompt and efficient manner in which the Tax Collectors, as a rule, have discharged their obligations to the State. Two or three have failed to do so and their accounts have been placed in the hands of District Attorneys and of the Revenue Agent.
